Hernandez, Ben Bonilla

AUG 10, 1955 - AUG 20, 2024

Ben Hernandez, known by his grandchildren as “Papa” and siblings as “Bhoy”, 69, of Maui, Hawaii, passed away on August 20 2024.

He was born on August 10, 1955 to Policronio and Rosario (Bonilla) Hernandez in San Nicolas, Ilocos Norte, Philippines.

Ben graduated from Ilocos Norte College of Arts and Trades (INCAT) where he studied carpentry. He moved to Paia, Hawaii with his mother and four younger brothers in 1975. He returned to the Philippines and met the love of his life, Lumen (Juan) where they were happily married in Manila, Philippines in 1981.

He worked as a sugar boiler mechanic for Hawaii Commercial & Sugar (HC&S) at the Paia Mill and transferred to the Pu’unene mill where he worked for over 35 years until it closed down in 2016.

Ben and Lumen went on to have two children, Jojo and Heidi. In 2016, Ben retired and spent his time caring for his grandson Justin Hernandez, gardening, and maintaining his second home in Las Vegas, Nevada.

He was an active member of Christ The King Church where he and his wife were also members of the Marian Choir. He also loved singing karaoke and playing at the golf range with his friends, and also loved to play basketball. His favorite hobbies were cleaning his cars, and walking with his wife and his dog Howie at Keopuolani Park.

Ben was a devoted husband, caring father, and loyal friend. He was focused, and always busy working on projects around the house and always cleaning something or helping others as a handyman.

He was warm, kind, welcoming, humble, and loved by many and will be missed dearly. He was always taking care of people, especially his wife and family.

Blessed with many talents, he was a passionate dancer, he loved ballroom dancing
