I didn't know William personally; I know and have worked in the mental health field alongside his wife, Suwan. I wish that I had known of William's interest and the time he spent in Samoa - I would have loved to share stories of Samoa - a place we both spent a part of our lives in but in a different time. My condolences to Suwan and the family.

I worked with William McGrath in Chicago many years ago. He was a much larger-than-life guy with a much larger than eternity soul. He was dedicated to his work and loved humanity. He taught me much. God rest his soul. Patrick Murphy, Riverside Illinois
